Lithophanies - Votivelights

Embossed porcelain votivelights from Limoges in France

What makes a Bernardaud Votivelight so special?

The surprising translucency, characteristic of Limoges Porcelain, is what makes a Bernardaud votivelight so special. Bernardaud artisans use the same technique of hand-sculpting fine, bisque porcelain (non glazed) that was first demonstrated by French artist Paul de Bourgoing in 1828. The glow of the candle shines through the raised surface of the votive to contrast light against shadow, revealing its richly detailed design.

These votivelights add a warm, decorative accent to any room in the home. For a dramatic effect or to create a festive ambiance, delight your dinner guests by replacing traditional dinner candles with Bernardaud votivelights
